

Antonio Camurri, Associate Professor at University of Genova where he teaches "Software engineering" and "Multimedia Systems"; founder and scientific director of InfoMus Lab (www.infomus.org), member of the Executive Committee of the IEEE CS Tech. Committee on Computer Generated Music, founding member of the Italian Association for Artificial Intelligence, Associate Editor of Journal of New Music Research (Taylor & Francis); author of more than 100 scientific publications; chairman of several events, including the 1st Intl Workshop on Kansei - The Technology of Emotion, 1997; Track on Kansei Information Processing at the IEEE Intl Conf SMC'98 and SMC'99; V Intl Gesture Workshop, 2003; ENACTIVE 2005 Intl Conference; New Interfaces for Musical Expression – NIME 2008. Co-Editor of the special issue of IEEE Multimedia on "Multisensory Communication and Experience through Multimedia", 2004. Coordinator of the EU IST project MEGA (Multisensory Expressive Gesture Applications, 5FP, www.megaproject.org) and local project manager in many EU (e.g., TAI-CHI, ENACTIVE, HUMAINE, U-CREATE, MIAMI, S2S^2, ConGAS) and industry projects. Director of the Into Centre of Excellence Casa Paganini - InfoMus Lab (www.casapaganini.org) He is co-owner of patents on software systems.